The Democratic members of the Pennsylvania Legislature have all spoken out at the instance of an interviewer in favor of Tilden's nomination for 1880. Reform and Pelton will be in order, but a new cipher will have to be adopted, as the New York Tribune has the key to those used in the last campaign.

The New York Tribune says that a gifted political prophet has started the public with the prediction that if Tilden should be incapacitated by a further affliction of feebleness, David Davis would loom up at once as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The only effect of this prediction will be to make Davis vote more regularly with the Democrats.

It will be seen by our dispatches that the Constitutional Convention proposed by the Governor does not meet with much favor, and the House has passed the amendment its first and second reading, to pay fifty cents on the dollar, provided the bondholders will agree to accept this settlement, the whole, however, to be submitted to the people. If the bondholders are willing to accept fifty cents on the dollar, and the Legislature agrees to thus settle we see no reason for not at once putting this vexed question out of politics. The power and duty to act belongs to the Legislature, and it has no right to shift the responsibility upon the people.

If Fall Branch is made the county seat of the new county of Boone, there will be five county seats at an average distance of 19 miles from Jonesboro', according to the Journal.

The Herald and Tribune learns that a Revenue officer named Hanly was killed by a Yankee County, N. C., last week, by one Frank Wilson. Wilson came to Jonesboro' and took the train for the West the early part of the week. He claims the killing was justifiable, but his absconding makes that story rather doubtful.

Nashville Banner: We thought the subject of a settlement of the State debt absorbed the attention of the members of the General Assembly to such an extent that they did not have time to engage in any other work, but at midnight last night, a trio of promising members might have been seen trying to hold up the corner of a building on the Public Square. Says the soberest, "I'll never vote for that forty and four bill begod."

The Senate Sets Down on Gov. Marks' Convention System.

The Senate Bill to Settle the Debt Passed by the House.

After Being Amended to Make it 50 Cents Instead of 40.

Congress Still Continues to Make Slow Headway.

They Begin to Wrestle with the Appropriation Bills.

A Horrible Story of Outrage and Lynching in Kansas.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 27. Special to the Chronicle.

SENATE.—Mr. Tolley introduced a bill authorizing the holding of a Constitutional Convention. It was met with a great deal of disapprobation, one Senator rising excitedly from his seat and requesting its immediate withdrawal. It was rejected. Senate bill authorizing settlements with Receivers of railroads, passed on third reading; also to change the time of holding the Chancery Court of Knox county, House bill instructing Supreme Court Clerks to pay to all clerks of inferior courts whatever money due them, passed on third reading.

HOUSE.—The House was engaged throughout the day in discussing Mr. Stovall's fifty cent amendment to the Senate bill. Speaker Fowkes offered an amendment to the amendment, to accept the proposition of the railroads, to pay one hundred thousand dollars per annum, provided there was an adjustment of the debt. Adopted by a vote of 49 to 17.

Mr. Stovall's fifty cents amendment was adopted by a vote of 39 to 34.

Mr. Anderson offered an amendment, that the proposition should receive the approval of the creditors before incurring the expense of submitting it to the people. Adopted by a vote of 41 to 34.

The bill, as amended, then passed second reading by a vote of 37 to 35.

A general disposition is shown on the part of some Senators to bulldoze the House into the belief that if it passes the bill to settle the debt at fifty cents on the third reading to-morrow, the Senate will not concur in it. The members of the House assert that they will pass it and let the responsibility of rejecting it fall on the Senate.

XLVI CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 27. Numerous bills were introduced and referred.

It was resolved that when the Senate adjourn it be to Monday next.

The Senate took up Mr. Hoar's resolution declaring that the course of the dominant party is revolutionary, &c. The following is the resolution:

"Resolved, That the refusal by one House of Congress to make necessary provision for the support of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments, and for the defense of the country, except upon the condition that the other House and the President shall give their assent to legislation which they disapprove, and the refusal by Congress to make such provision except upon condition that the President shall give such assent, is unconstitutional, revolutionary, and, if persisted in, must lead to the overthrow of constitutional government and the destruction of the national life."

A running debate took place on Mr. Hoar's resolution, without disposing of the subject.

The Senate went into executive session, and afterwards adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

The Army Appropriation bill was this morning introduced by Mr. Sparks, of Illinois, a member of Appropriation Committee of the last House. He stated that it was substantially the bill which had passed the last House, with the reorganization feature stricken out. It retained the clause prohibiting the use of troops at the polls. The bill was referred to the Committee of the Whole, and the House is now in committee for the purpose of considering it.

The House is considering the Army Appropriation bill under the five minutes rule, all general debates having been dispensed with except on the clauses relating to the use of troops at the polls on which the debate will take place later. A motion to reduce the army to 15,000 has been rejected by a vote of 58 to 119.

The Committee of the Whole on the Army bill disposed of nearly all the sections of the bill. That relating to the use of troops at polls was passed over for the present.

KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—At a meeting of citizens of Frankfort, Ky., last night, Gen. J. P. Michals, Hon. Alvin Duval and Judge W. P. D. Bush were appointed to request the Mayor to issue his proclamation ordering that all places of business be closed to-morrow, the 28th inst. The Governor has issued the following announcement for to-morrow:

"STATE OF KENTUCKY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT."

"FRANKFORT, March 27, 1879."

"The announcement of the death of Hon. John M. Everett, Judge of the First Appellate District, which occurred at Frankfort on March 26, 1879, will cause sorrow and regret in every section of the Commonwealth. His long career of usefulness, and the many positions of public trust which he so honorably filled, won for him the respect and confidence of the people of the entire State. As a citizen he was beloved for his integrity, patriotism and fidelity. As a Representative in Congress he was energetic, prompt and distinguished, and as a Judge he was able, incorruptible and impartial. In token of respect for his memory I recommend that all the public offices be closed at twelve o'clock m., and remain closed the residue of this day, and that all State officers, and their clerks, attend the funeral in a body. (Signed) JAS. B. MCCREARY, Governor."

The funeral will take place from the Christian Church at 3 p. m. to-morrow, the services to be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Miller. It will be the largest funeral ever solemnized in this city. The most bitter regret prevails throughout the Commonwealth. There has been no attempt at lynching, nor will there be any.

KANSAS.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—A Fort Scott, Kansas, dispatch says: On Tuesday Bill Howard, the negro cruelly and diabolically outraged Clara Pond, twelve years old, was discovered in an old mine six miles from this city. The prisoner was brought to town and lodged in jail. The excitement was intense and threats of lynching made. The crime was so horrible, as to be without a parallel in criminal history. Last night a crowd of fully one thousand citizens, accompanied by thirty masked men with drawn revolvers, took him from the jail, tied a rope around his neck, dragged him five blocks, and hung him to a lamp post on the corner of the public square. After hanging fifteen minutes a cry arose "Burn him, burn him." The body was taken down, and in spite of the resistance and objection of the more calm, peaceable portion of the crowd was roasted and burned in a fire of dry goods boxes and coal oil, amid demonstrations that rivalled pandemonium.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Before the Wallace Committee this morning Gorham's examination was resumed. He produced books of subscriptions in the Departments and a list the moneys sent to the different States mentioned yesterday. There were aided by the National Committee nineteen Southern Congressional Districts, with an average of $363, and fifty-eight Northern districts, with an average of $712. No aid was rendered to 212 districts.

In Executive session to-day the Senate confirmed the following nominations: Drs. S. M. Bemis, of Louisiana; Henry J. Bowditch, of Massachusetts; James M. Cabell, of Virginia; Hosmer A. Johnson, of Illinois; Robt. W. Mitchell, of Tennessee; to be five members of the National Board of Health. Note.—The nomination of the two others remain to be acted on hereafter. Also, of A. C. Bell, to be postmaster at Americus, Georgia.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, March 27.—The corner stone of the Confederate Monument, located in Capital Square, was laid to-day by the Masonic fraternity, Acting M. W. G. M. of South Carolina, officiating, in the presence of a large assembly.

BOMBAY, March 26.—Private advices from Mandelay represent that a quiet prevails there. The King of Burma, since the dispatch of reinforcements of British troops, is reported to have expressed his willingness to grant any concessions demanded.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—The Governor to-day signed the bill passed by the last Legislature repealing the charter of the Louisiana State Lottery. The officers of the lottery company state that the business of the company will not be interfered with or affected by the Governor's action, as they have taken measures to test the constitutionality of the law in the courts of the United States.

NEW YORK.

BUFFALO, March 27.—It is currently reported that a prize fight occurred this morning at Navy Island, near this city, in Canada, between Arthur Chambers, of New York, and John Clark, of Philadelphia, for one thousand dollars a side and the light weight championship of America. No particulars.

FOREIGN NEWS.

BERLIN, March 27.—Prince Waldemar, fifth child and third son of Prince Frederick William, Crown Prince of Germany, and grand son of Queen Victoria, died suddenly of heart disease this morning.

LONDON, March 26.—The Paris correspondent of the Times telegraphs as follows: One of the most able and unrelenting adversaries of the present Cabinet, who, from his position on the Advanced Left, may almost be looked upon as the successor of the present Premier, told me a few days ago that the present Cabinet might last until the end of the year. A new question, however, is being stirred up, which will involve the Cabinet in a pitched battle. This is a bill introduced by Mr. Charles Boysset, Radical member of the Chamber of Deputies for Saone et Loire, which requires all the Magistrates to accept re-investiture by the Republic, thus abolishing immovability as regards the present Magistrates and restoring it for the benefit of their Republican successors. The bill is unnecessary, as the Magistracy during the eight years has been so modified by deaths, resignations, &c., as to be no longer openly hostile to the Republic. The proposal, though inopportune and undignified, would be in offense if M. Boysset had not been careful to place it under the enforced patronage of M. Gambetta as an item of the programme he supported in his speech at Rorivans. It can scarcely be doubted that the Government will oppose the bill. The question is, will M. Gambetta adhere to what he enunciated before his elevation to the Presidency of the Chamber of Deputies? Whatever his decision, the Government must do its utmost to defeat the bill, and not leave it to be supposed that a simple majority of the Left can govern its resolutions. It must, in such a matter, accept votes from any quarter. If it resolves to oppose with or without M. Gambetta's co-operation, it will secure the rejection of the bill.

A Paris correspondent of the Times telegraphs that "the last offers of Turkey to Greece, though unacceptable, were more liberal than formerly, and show that Turkey feels her inability to evade the treaty of Berlin. The Powers knew that Greece may at any moment appeal to their mediation, which they can not refuse, but would gladly avoid, as their united action might involve unforeseen contingencies. A semi-official mediation is, therefore, probable. It is known that all the Powers are not entirely favorable to the Greek demand, as, for instance, the cession of Janina. There is good reason to believe the Porte will be advised to make a cession of Thessaly, instead of Janina. And upon the other points which he refuses, the Sultan is perhaps awaiting a European pressure to protect him from the reproaches of the old Turk party."

At a called meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of Tennessee yesterday evening, Prof. Joyner made a report of the work accomplished in the interest of the University by his trip to Nashville. The report was read and approved, and a vote of thanks for his efficient services was unanimously adopted.

Our University.

At last the Legislature has done at least one thing worthy of their constituents. They have taken a matter in hand that is of vital interest to the youth of the State and to the advancement of learning in the State at large. Some time ago Prof. Joyner, of what was then East Tennessee University, left for Nashville in the interests of the University. He has succeeded in having the following bill passed: A bill changing the name from East Tennessee University to the "University of Tennessee." This was the most important measure, as it gives the school a more general significance for and makes it sound more like the State institution, which it really is. The second bill passed was a bill regulating the appointment of trustees, in order to give each district in the State a representative. This is a wise measure, as it gives the school agents, as it were, all over the State. A law was also passed that a State Board of Visitors should be appointed by the Governor, consisting of three from each Grand Division. The last law passed was to regulate the appointment of State cadets through the agency of the State Superintendent and County Superintendents. This makes it incumbent on all these officials to see that all the vacancies for appointment are filled. By this means the attendance at the school will be doubled. In the meanwhile, such changes shall be made in the curriculum and general management of the school itself, by its officers, as to make it worthy of the reformation by the State. Now we have in fact a State University, a school in which the whole State are both actually and nominally interested. It should, by the aid of our noble system of public schools and minor seats of learning, become equal to the great schools of the North and Northwest.—Chattanooga Times.

The seventy-five days allotted to the Legislature for its regular session expires with next Monday, and it is not very likely that the members will run a minute over the time, as their pay will stop then.
